

Family Devotion Resources

Holding meaningful Family Devos is not as difficult as you might think. Here are a few rules to live by as well as some good resources to try.

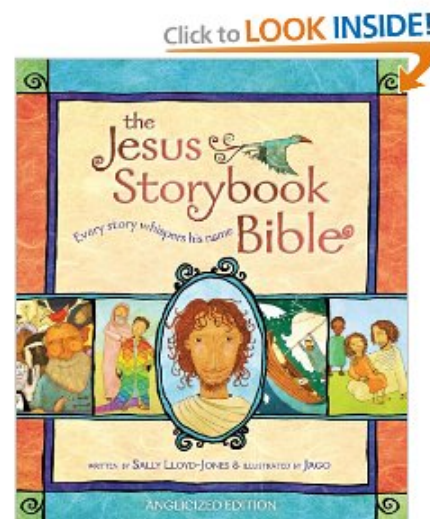

Rules to live by:

1. Just do it – don't feel like you need to be an expert Bible scholar to lead devotions. Teach what you know, and teach it now.
2. Keep it brief – You'll be amazed what you can cover in 10-15 minutes. It might spark a longer conversation, but not always.
3. Keep it interactive – don't lecture, ask lots of questions. Get your family talking about the Bible.
4. Challenge them – ask them to think of a real way to apply what you've learned that day and challenge them to try it and report back the next day or week.
5. Have fun – adding a bit of humor never hurt anyone.

Resources for small children:

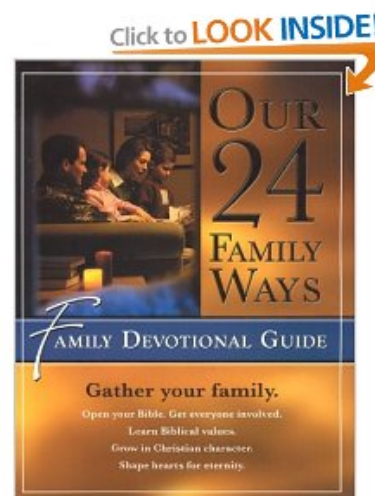

Jesus Storybook Bible

This is an excellent book to read to small children. It has good illustrations too.

Our 21 Family Ways

A great first book for family devotions.

Resources for older children / teens:

Story Thru the Bible

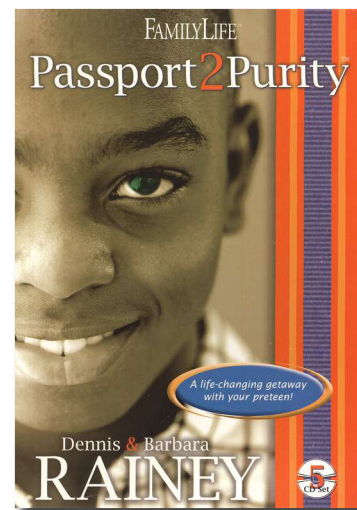

My hands-down favorite resource.

Resources to teach your children about Sexual Purity:

Passport to Purity

Plan a retreat with your child to talk about purity. This resource will make it easy to plan as well as very meaningful.

The Princess and the Kiss

A good book with activities for daughters.
